

EMPOWER 360°

Focus your eyes on the dot in the center and move your head forward and backwards. Did you see the circles turning?

What is it? An illusion; a delusion; a fragmented reality?

I can't do that; this is not for me; I am stressed; I can never get along with her/him; things will never change around here; I am perfectly okay with everything.

Is that also not an illusion, a delusion due to our fragmented perception of reality.

To understand the real meaning and the truth behind this illusion CALL NOW: 9422333552

ABOUT NLP FAQs

What is NLP ?

NLP or Neuro Linguistic Programming is a Behavioral Science. NLP is the art and technology of achieving personal, professional and corporate excellence.

What does NLP stand for ?

NEURO: Neurons in the brain creating the pathways of your experiences

LINGUISTIC: Language and how you say it that affects others and more so deepens your own pathways (both +vely & -vely).

PROGRAMMING: Relevant pathways in a given context that make you behave the way you do.
NLP enables you to understand and change the way you think, feel and behave. It helps you to choose what to do, and be what you want to be.

Who started it ?

Dr. Richard Bandler, an information scientist and John Grinder, a professor of linguistics. Many others have contributed a lot and it is still continuing.

When ?

1972 onwards.

How is it different from any other ?

No change occurs at the conscious level until a change is made at the subconscious (existing pathways) level.

How does it work ?

Through visualization exercises and the artful use of language.

How long does the effect last ?

Permanent.

How ?

The mind is capable of "one shot learning". That's how fears & phobias get installed. Capable practitioner installs positivities.

Will I have to reveal what is private ?

Not at all. It helps the trainer to know the issues beforehand.

These are some of the spontaneous expressions that we often hear at the end of a deeper NLP exercise.

Lest you think that these are some common responses that you do hear immediately at the end of some really good programs, we reproduce the sentiments expressed about the effects way after the program.

"When I first did practitioners there were so many changes and benefits. Then I went for master practitioner which gave a new confidence and ability to work with people and also my career had improved. Then I suggested my wife to finish practitioner and master practitioner and the whole family life changed where now our kids tell us that we are different (in a good sort of way) compared to other parents. Sometimes we do not know what those changes will be and the benefits before doing a training of this sort".
